Foreword

In this, the twelfth volume of the FROSLIN, do we, the class of 1940, wish to extend our heartfelt gratitude to our principal, teachers, and parents for the helpful guidance and inspiration they have so willingly given us throughout the past four years.

We have recorded herein a summary of the events of our four happy years in St. Wendelin High. We consider it a great privilege that we have been able to attend a Catholic school. The name of St. Wendelin High School will ever be revered by us, who are reluctant to leave.

Soon we will be in the mart of the world striving for success. It is a comforting thought to recall that with the training and culture received at St. Wendelin, we are equipped with the necessary qualities to combat in the strife.

To you, St. Wendelin High School, we, the class of 1940, bid adieu, as our hearts light up with hope that we may be able to promote your interests in future years.

Dedication

To you, dear Father Osterhage,
We dedicate this book,
Volume twelve of our Froslin,
To fill a treasured nook.

Each page reveals your interest
In every enterprise,
As daily we passed to and fro,
Beneath your watchful eyes.

At God's altar every morning,
Stood our principal to plead
That our day be for God's glory,
And His grace supply our need.

Through religious truths he taught us
How to make our lives sublime,
How to serve the God who made us,
How to reach our goal in time.

When perplexed with our life's problems,
We to you, have e'er applied;
And in you have found unfailing
Tactful counselor, true and tried.

Thoughtful, patient and progressive,
We have come to realize
That your efforts always tended
To advance the school we prize.

Yes, "Thank you, Father, thank you,"
Rises from us twenty four.
"May the God above reward you
When you reach the eternal shore."

Rev. R. J. Osterhage

Mother Mary, Guide and Guard Us

Mother Mary, as loved children
You've led us on our way;
To accept the joys and sorrows
That were ours, day by day.
Joys that were ours, were yours also;
For a mother always enjoys
To see a smile ever playing
On the brow of her girls and boys.
Clouds though casting gloomy shadows,
Were lined with a silver hue,
As we turned out thoughts to heaven
To carry the cross, our due.
These twelve long years we have lingered
Near thy loved mother's heart.
May the future never see
One of us from you depart.
Should sin engulf us in its mire,
Or lure us to its shrine,
May we then ever remember
We would be forever thine.
Guide and guard us, Mother Mary,
Till our earthy race is run,
And we're safe beyond the portals
With you, and your Divine Son.
Plead for us when Jesus judges,
When He of life shall ask:
"Did you know and love and serve Me?
Did you fill your noble task?"
"Come, ye blessed," may He whisper
To each of the twenty-four;
"Come and join in Mother's praises,
As you did in days of yore."

Tribute to Faculty

We Seniors pause on the threshold of Commencement to recall the happy years spent in St. Wendelin High School. Within the portals of this beautiful and well equipped building lingers many a fond memory of those who have prayed for us and sacrificed themselves in unselfish service in order to impart invaluable knowledge, promote scholarship, and give us the guidance necessary for our future well being.

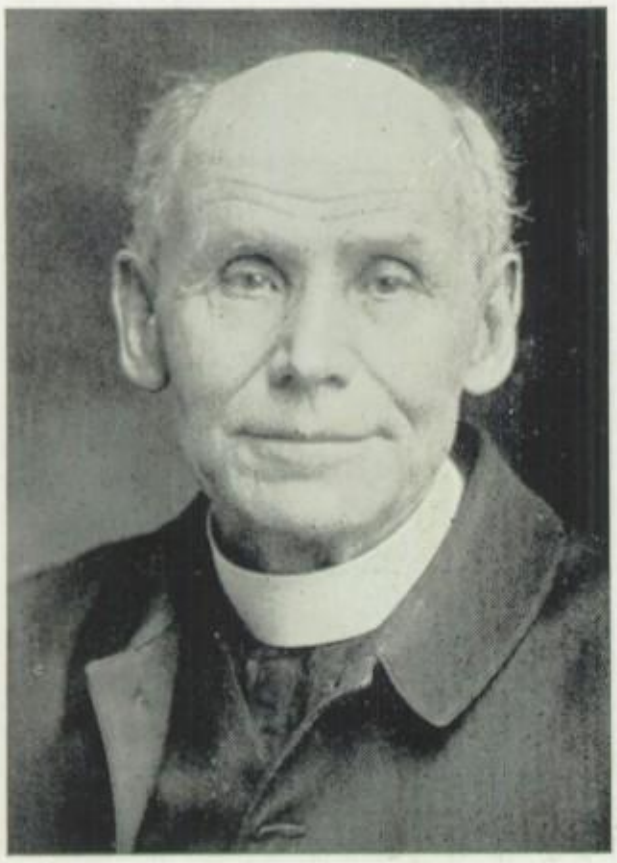
To our beloved principal, Father Osterhage, we express our deepest gratitude. A special privilege Father obtained for us was daily Holy Mass that we might begin the day with Christ, the Divine Teacher. Within our religion classes Father Osterhage has endeavored to instill a deep spirit of faith, and Christian principles that will be conducive to our temporal happiness and future glory. Father has in his kind, sympathetic way ministered to us as loyal priest prudent counselor, and true friend.

Although we pass from your daily vigilance, may we linger in the memento of your Mass while your interest in us deepens as we barter on youth's highway. As alumni of St. Wendelin's may these seeds sown in our high school career produce new blossoms of Catholic action and leadership.

To the other members of the faculty, Sister Mary Therese, Sister Mary Dalene, Sister Mary Francella, Sister Mary Hadwig, Mr. Elmer Bache, Mrs. Floyd Kinnaman, Mrs. Clarence Kuhn, we express our sincerest appreciation for their untiring patience, loving interest, and special skill in imparting knowledge in their various fields.

Although our vocations in life be such that they scatter us from coast to coast, there will always linger one great common bond—loyalty to our Alma Mater, our faculty, and those principles inculcated at St. Wendelin High.

Rev. A. A. Weber, Pastor



We, the Class of 1940, wish to express our sincerest thanks to you, Father Weber, our saintly pastor. Most of us were baptized by you, received our First Holy Communion from your hands and through the years have been the objects of your priestly zeal and solicitude. Your fervent prayers for us have ascended to God's throne. Although your years prevent your daily presence in our midst we feel the benefit of your Christ-like example.

"Alter Christus" win thy sweet reward
When Thou shalt greet Thy Lord;
May He a rich inheritance bestow
For helping us, His pilgrims, here below.
As parishioners firm we take our stand
To do our best as we have ever planned.

Rev. R. J. Osterhage, Principal

We are the first class in Saint Wendelin High School, Fr. Osterhage, to claim the privilege of being under your guidance throughout the complete four years of our high school career. We cannot fully express the gratitude we feel, for the splendid examples you have set by your high ideals and thorough teaching. The many kindnesses which you have conferred not only upon our class but upon each individual at St. Wendelin's will be cherished throughout the coming years. We sincerely hope that many more classes may come and go under your able direction and counsel.

Mrs. Floyd Kinnaman

Two years ago Mrs. Floyd Kinnaman joined the teaching staff of St. Wendelin High School as directress of music. The Glee Club under her capable direction has rendered selections in two, three, and four-voice parts, and learned two beautiful Masses: the "Centennial Mass" by Wm. J. Marsh, and the "Messe Notre Dame" by T. J. Bordonel.

Mrs. Kinnaman has likewise been a pleasant, willing, and inspiring advisor in helping us plan and carry out our proms and social gatherings.

Mrs. Clarence Kuhn

Mrs. Clarence Kuhn, '32, alumna of St. Wendelin's and also of Mary Manse College, has been the principal's secretary for the past two years. The recollection of her ready smile and pleasing personality will ever be treasured by the Class of '40.

Mr. Elmer Bache

Mr. Elmer Bache, a graduate of Dayton University with the class of 1939, joined the teaching staff of St. Wendelin High School in September, 1939. Although he has been with us for a comparatively short time, we have learned to appreciate him for his splendid work in athletics and in the class room.

Our Beloved Alma Mater

"Alma Mater" school of mine,
Years have marked the march of time;
With regret we leave thy portals rare
To go, alas, we know not where.
But, onward, "Alma Mater," do we hope,
And thus with life's new problems cope;
Thy light may we ever see.
And faithful to thy precepts be.

Busily Engaged

This group of French students is recording French conversation and songs.

A number of chemistry students are shown introducing the halogen family to their classmates.

The fourth conjugation has not proved to be a "Waterloo" to our diligent first year Latineers.

As the school year is drawing to a close, these geometry students are getting better and better acquainted with points, lines and more lines.

Here we see some freshmen delving into the deep mysteries of general science.

Students At Work

1. Catherine Coughenour and Rita Binkley as student librarians have given generously of their time. They were chief among a group of junior girls who rebound a large number of books in the library.

2. Who knows but what these student-chemists may some day be second Madame Curies and Louis Pasteurs.

3. "Wanted: A competent bookkeeper." Any of these students would be able to fill a position such as this.

4. Don't ask us what a "locus" is, but here are some geometry students solving problems concerning the aforementioned subject.

5. These Junior-typists are out to break their own records.

Fr. V. C. Flechenstein

To Reverend V. C. Flechenstein, C. PP. S., the class of 1940 extends heartfelt thanks for the guidance received during our third annual retreat. As we take our place in the world we will remember his admonitions during the three short days he was with us. Our wish is that God will continue to bless his efforts and in eternity may he find rich recompense for his zeal in directing the souls that have come within his influence.

Cast of "Lunatics at Large"

Seated: Geraldine Shober, Harold Coon, Carolyn Cunningham, Leonard Nye, Eileen Emerine, Richard Abowd.
Standing: Donald Martin, Mary Rose Falter, Paul Wolph, Virginia Wagner, Joseph Bigila, Margaret Altwies, Myron Ziegman, Catherine Coughenour.

To Reverend R. J. Osterhage, principal, goes much credit for the success of the dramatics presented at St. Wendelin High School this year. Under his competent direction two outstanding plays, "Lunatics at Large," and "Cinderella Rose" were presented to large, appreciative audiences.

Outstanding Scenes of "Lunatics at Large"

1. Newcomers, Harold Coon and Carolyn Cunningham are frightened by "Mr. Hyde" and "John Alden."

2. Lady Macbeth: "Out damn spot." Priscilla stares at her blankly.

3. Mrs. Adair laments about her poor sick daughter.

4. Leonard Nye, "Don Cutter," says the lunatics are harmless.

5. Lunatics look on as "Inspector Britt" learns of the murder of Burke.

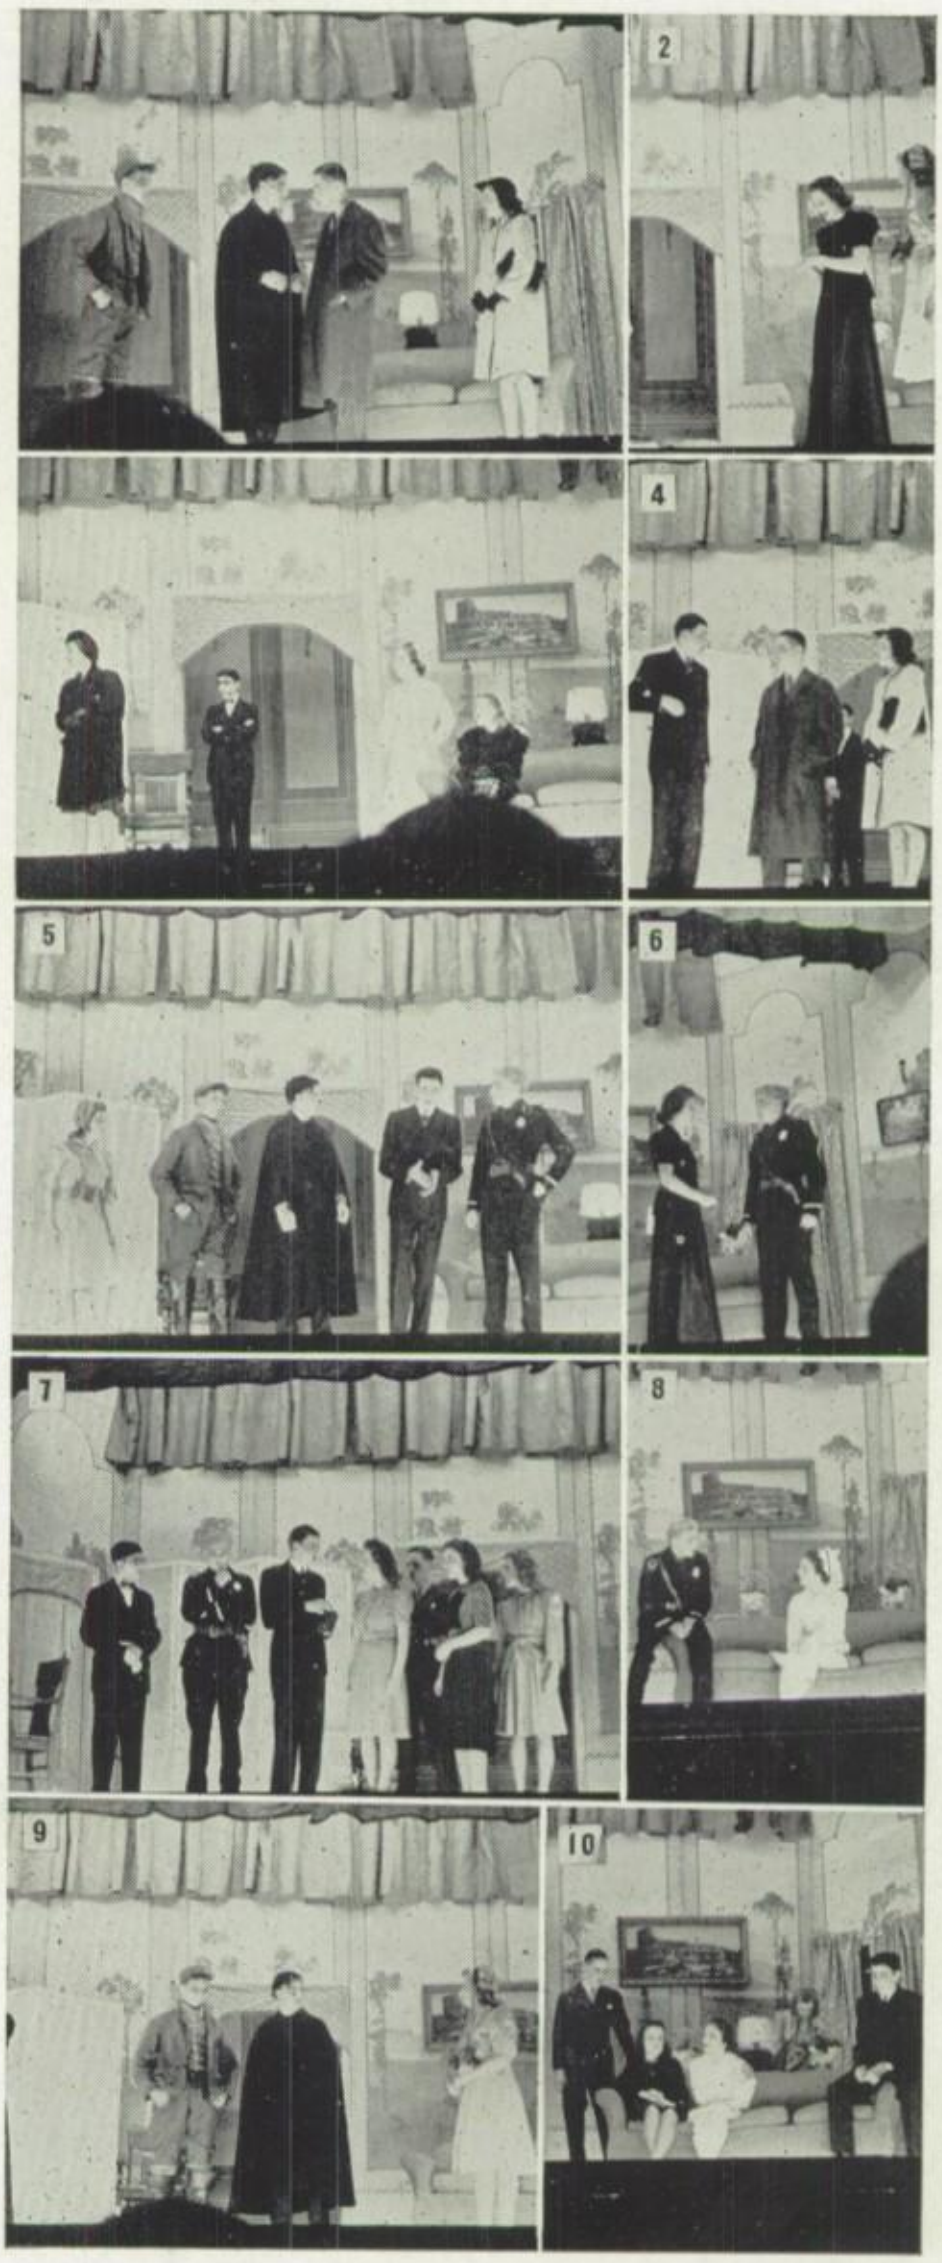
6. Inspector questions "Shakespearian struck," Lady Macbeth.

7. Don Cutter tells his wife Lucille that the little black box is hers.

8. Our little policeman tries his psychology on Doctor Janet.

9. The lunatics try a little "logic."

10. "Oh, my arm," says Doctor Janet who nurses her gun wound.



Cast of "Cinderella Rose"

Row 1—Ann Louise Swint, Margaret Smith, Eileen Emerine, Mary Rose Falter.

Row 2—Robert Bradner, Kathleen Teeple, Marguerite Lichtle, Frank Crawford.

Row 3—Harold Coon, Leonard Nye, Richard Kinn, Tommy Roberts.

"Cinderella Rose," a three act musical comedy written by Jay Tobias, was presented by the Bonhi Club in the high school auditorium, Wednesday and Thursday, May 8 and 9, under the direction of the Rev. R. J. Osterhage, principal.

Following closely along lines similar to that of the proverbial Cinderella, a few new characters and a new setting have been intrcduced into the plot.

Mary Rose Falter was chosen to play the title role with Harold Coon, as Bob Shannon, an amateur song writer, opposite her. "Rose," an orphan, makes her home with her miserly uncle, Hiram Higgins, and his strong-voiced wife, Cassie, and their conceited daughter, Alayne. These roles are played by Leonard Nye, Kathleen Teeple, and Eileen Emerine, respectively.

Many new circumstancs add to the hilarity of the play in the form of Genevieve Svensen, the Swedish cook, played by Marguerite Lichtle; Sammy Simms, a fresh freshman, played by Robert Bradner; Ted Shannon, Cameron College's football star and Alayne's heart throb, played by Thomas Roberts; the ice man, a burly individual, played by Richard Kinn; the messenger boy, played by Frank Crawford; Angelina, the brat next door, played by Ann Louise Swint; and, Mrs. Hobbs, her long-suffering mother, played by Margaret Smith.

Two choruses under the direction of Mrs. Floyd Kinnaman and Miss Leilamae Hampshire performed song and dance specialties.

Chorus

Row 1—Margaret Thom, Marjorie Schmitz, Geraldine Shober, Virginia Lichtle.

Row 2—Helen Whitta, Catherine Coughenour, Eleanor Foos, Barbara Ann Firth.

Row 3—Donald Martin, Rita Binkley, Alton Lehman, Suzanne Vogel, Robert Holderman.

Row 4—Paul Wolph, Margaret Altwies, Joseph Bigila, Marjorie Kinn, James Shields.

Director of Chorus

To Mrs. Floyd J. Kinnaman we owe the success of the musical numbers presented in connection with "Lunatics at Large" and "Cinderella Rose." The special choruses which she directed for the musical comedy "Cinderella Rose" were ample proof of her untiring efforts in the interest of music at St. Wendelin High.

Chapel Scenes

Here we have Helen Heilman and Mildred Droll cleaning the carpet in the chapel.

Chapel organists. Seated, Joanne Huth, standing left to right: Mary Whitta, Dorothy Kieffer, Marjorie Kinn, Joanne Klinepeter.

Glee Club basses and altos on the Gospel side of the chapel.

Glee Club tenors and sopranos on the Epistle side of the chapel.

Around the School

Leaving the building after a hard day's work, we see Mrs. Margaret Zook, who filled the secretary's position for the last few weeks of school. Mrs. Zook graduated with the class of 1927.

In an assembly never to be forgotten by the students of St. Wendelin's were Mr. Dave Rubinoff and his one-hundred-thousand dollar violin.

Runner up and the champion speller: Ursula Finsel and Kathleen Teeple.

These freshmen just can't get away from their studies even after dismissal.

The Froslin Campaign

The student body of the high school embarked on the Froslin subscription campaign, April 2.

Leonard Nye was appointed general manager of the campaign. The class leaders were as follows: seniors, Carolyn Cunningham; juniors, Rita Binkley; sophomores, Richard Magers; freshmen, Eugene Blaser.

Michaeline Tinkovicz, a freshman, was awarded first prize, a beautiful RCA radio donated by the Nye Implement Co. The second prize, a radio given by Conine's gas station, was won by Joseph Ritzler, a junior. Helen Whitta, a sophomore, won third prize, a Shaeffer fountain pen, given by Cunningham's Drug Store. The seniors were not in competition with the underclassmen. A free day was given to the seniors and juniors for having their quotas.

Worthwhile prizes were awarded to the various class winners. They were as follows: juniors, Joanne Huth; sophomores, Geraldine Shober; freshmen, Ann Louise Swint.

Athletics

Our Coach

Elmer Bache, was graduated from Dayton University in 1939, and has proved his coaching ability by instilling in the Mohawks a fighting spirit which has carried them through an outstandingly successful year of athletics. He himself, an outstanding athlete, has in one short year earned the respect of every student wearing the Black and Gold. Above all, by his winning personality and untiring interest in his boys, he has aided in developing their characters. Mr. Bache is looking forward to another successful campaign at the helm of the Countyliners, and the athletes and students of the class of '40 will follow him and his team with great interest next year.

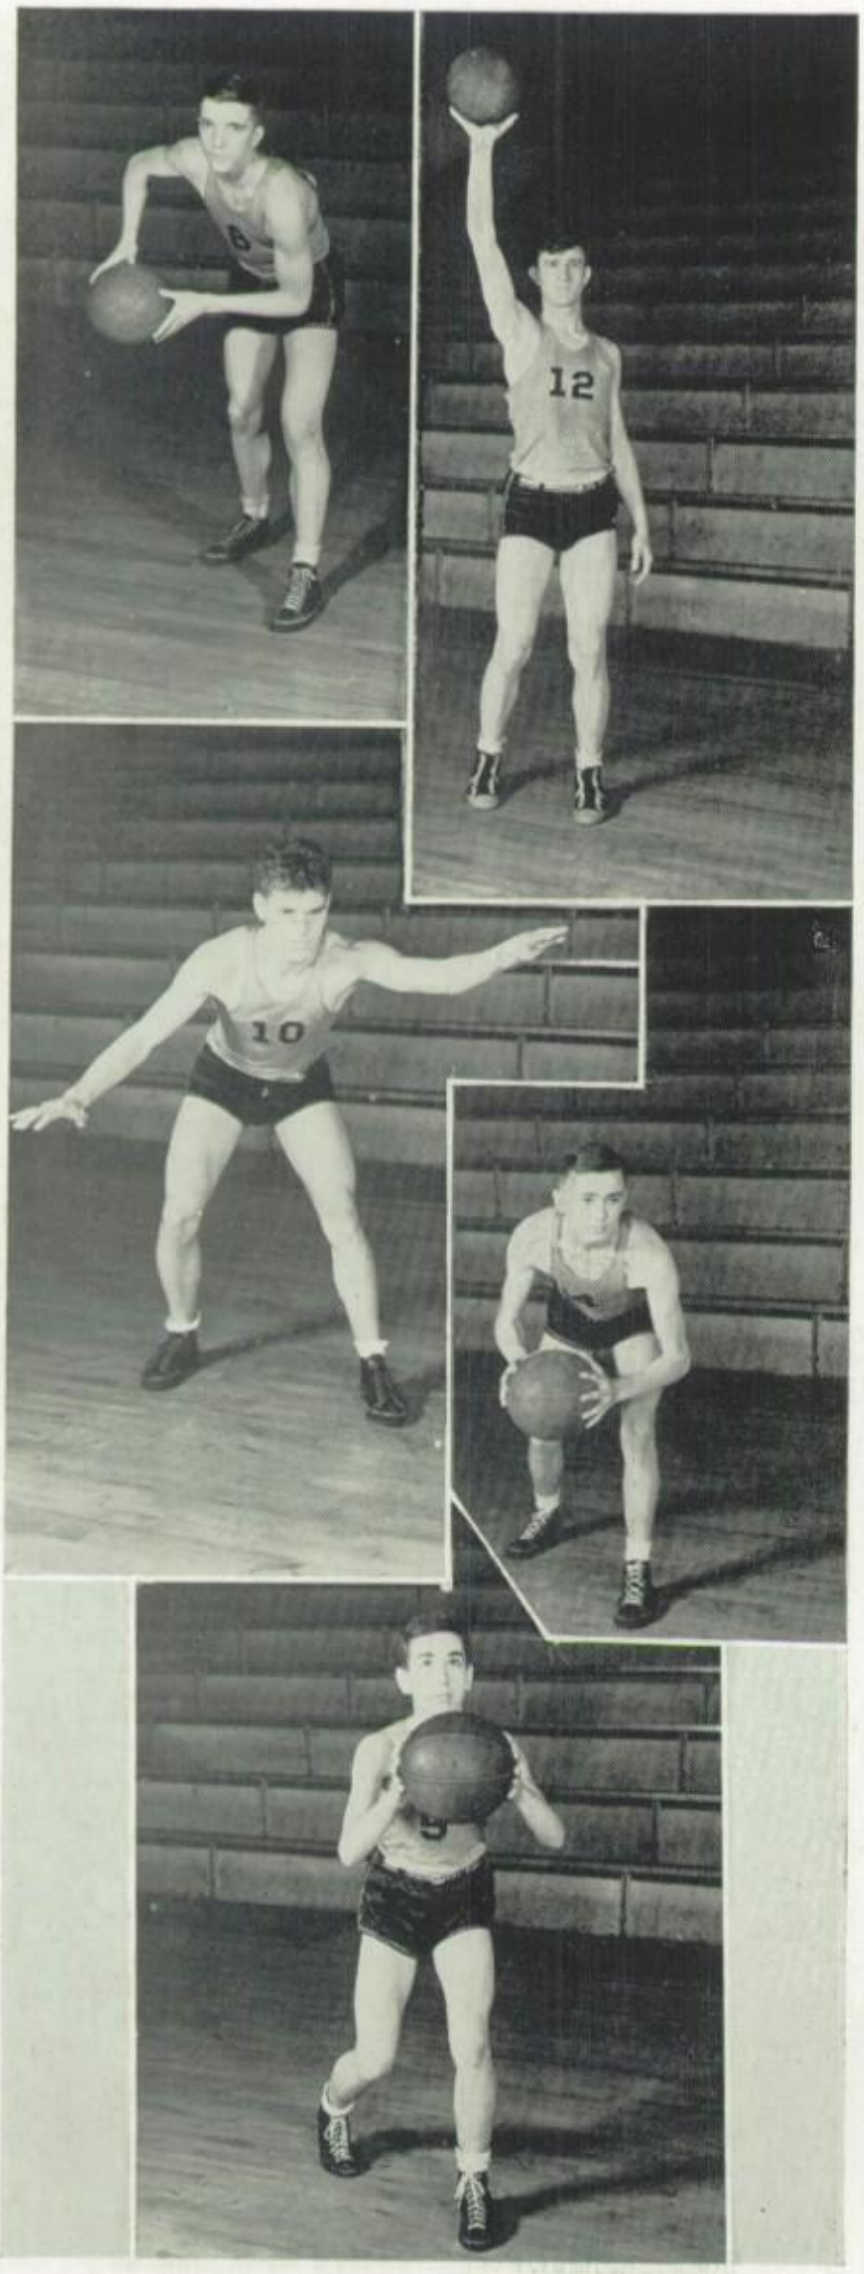
City



JAMES "JIMMY" ULMAN

A tricky shot from any angle on the floor, Jim acquired top city scoring honors, proving himself the main scoring threat of the Mohawk five. Jim not only proved his ability in the net-splitting department, but often held down dangerous opponents to few points. His aggressiveness made him a consistent point getter.

CLARENCE "BONES" HAMMER

"Bones," as a six foot, four inch ball player, showed his usefulness by controlling bank-board rebounds both on offense and defense. Clarence also took scoring honors with his "heads-up" under-bucket play.

RICHARD "DICK" KINN

Effectively filling in the pivot post with his six foot-two frame, Dick was the key man to the Mohawk offense and defense. Dick's tricky pivot shots made him a constant threat for the hoop.

JOSEPH "JOE" BIGILA

Joe's consistent top-speed play, has made him a real asset to the quintet. Joe is noted for his clever ball-handling. Coolness and poise made him a great floor man.

RICHARD "DICK" MAGERS

What Dick lacks in height he makes up doubly in scrap. A real ball-hawk, Dick was a dead shot from mid-court. While only a sophomore he should develop into a great ball player.

Champs

MYRON "ZEKE" ZIEGMAN

"Zeke's" first year of varsity duty, proved him a great help in rounding out the smoothness of the varsity five. Ever scrapping, Myron will be boosting the Saints' hopes in 1941.

JOSEPH "JOE" RITZLER

Always reliable, Joe was a handy man filling in the tight situations. Joe hit his stride in late season, promising to become real help to next year's team.

HARRY STONER

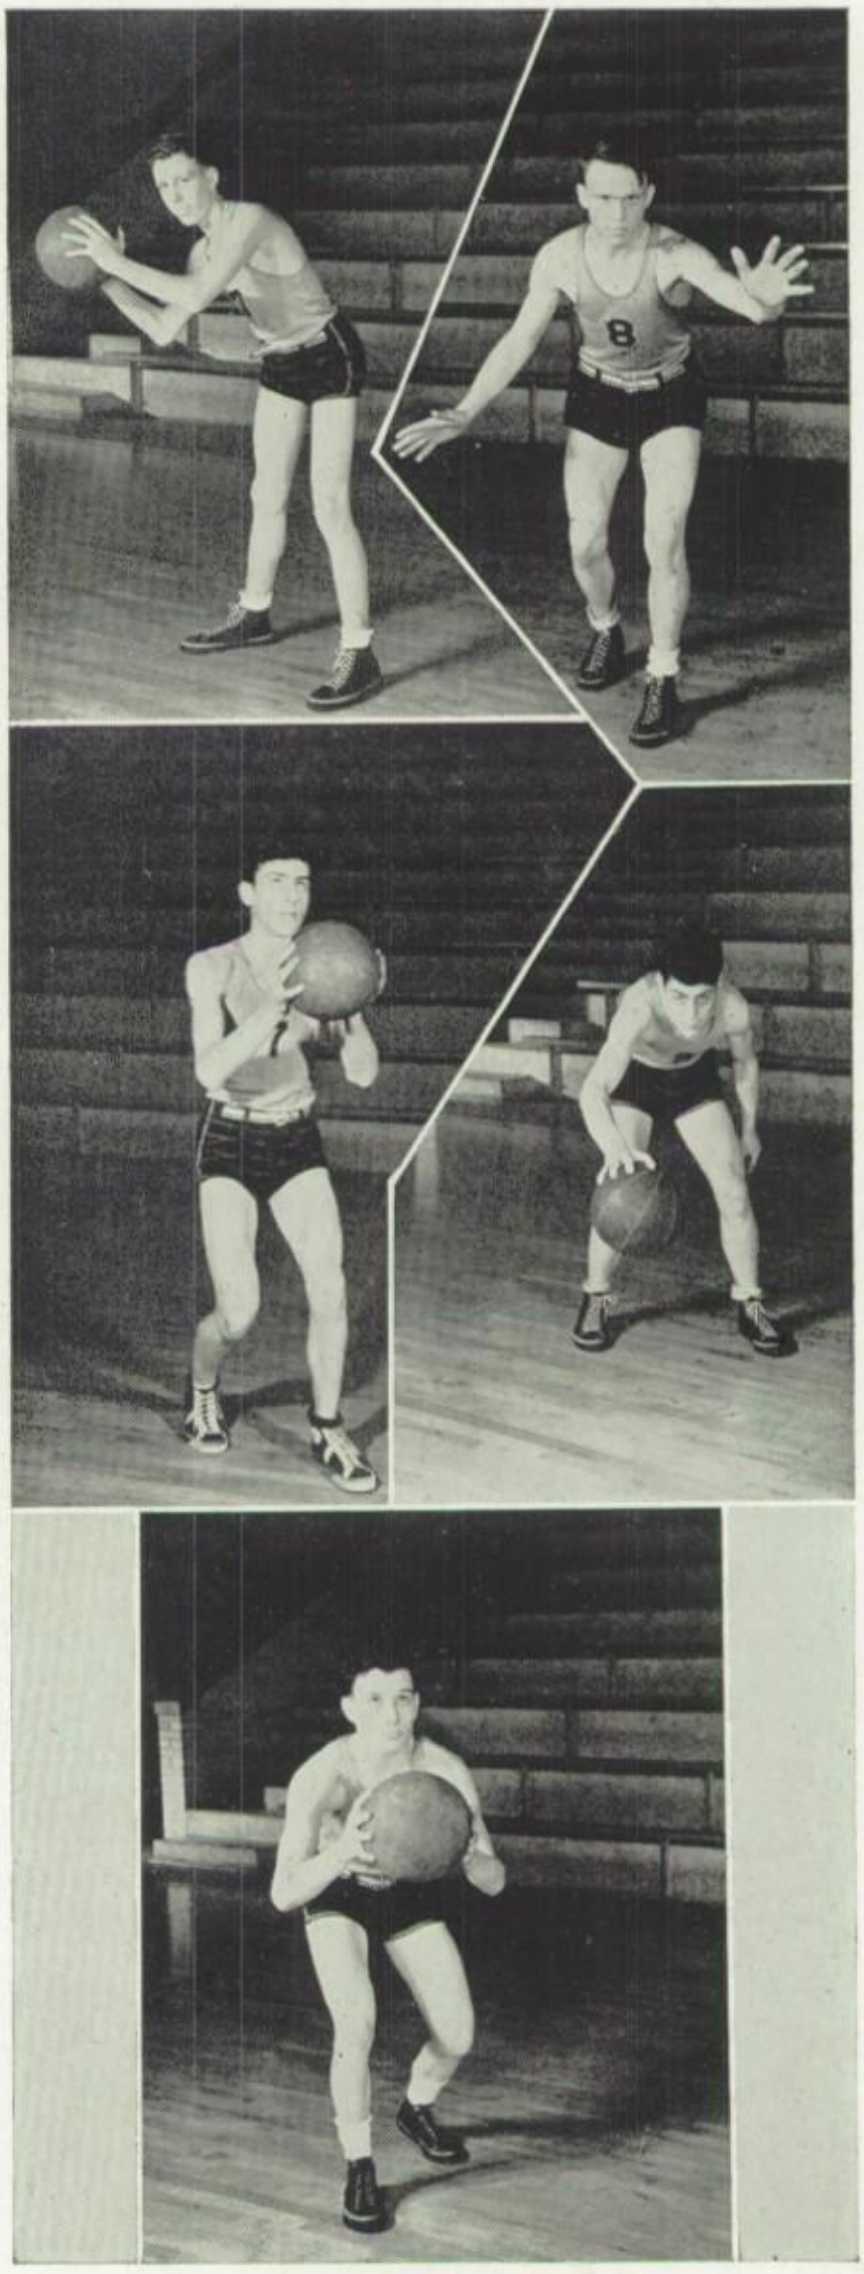
Also called on in the "pinches," Harry proved himself a threat with his long shots and bank-board "tip-ins." Harry will lend height to next year's squad.

JAMES "JIM" SHIELDS

Jim was great for his steady floor work on offense as well as defense. A good dribbler, Jim was counted on in tight situations to bolster the Saints' floor work. His scrap and determination will carry him a long way in the coming year.

THOMAS "TOMMY" ROBERTS

Known for his speed and spectacular shots, Tom was always there when another basket was needed. Though not a high-scorer, Tommy did shine in ball-handling and he was always there with a loyal fighting spirit.



Sport Flashes

"Jim" Ulman puts Saints in lead in opening minutes of the Fostoria High-St. Wendelin game.

A tense moment at the Carey-St. Wendelin game.

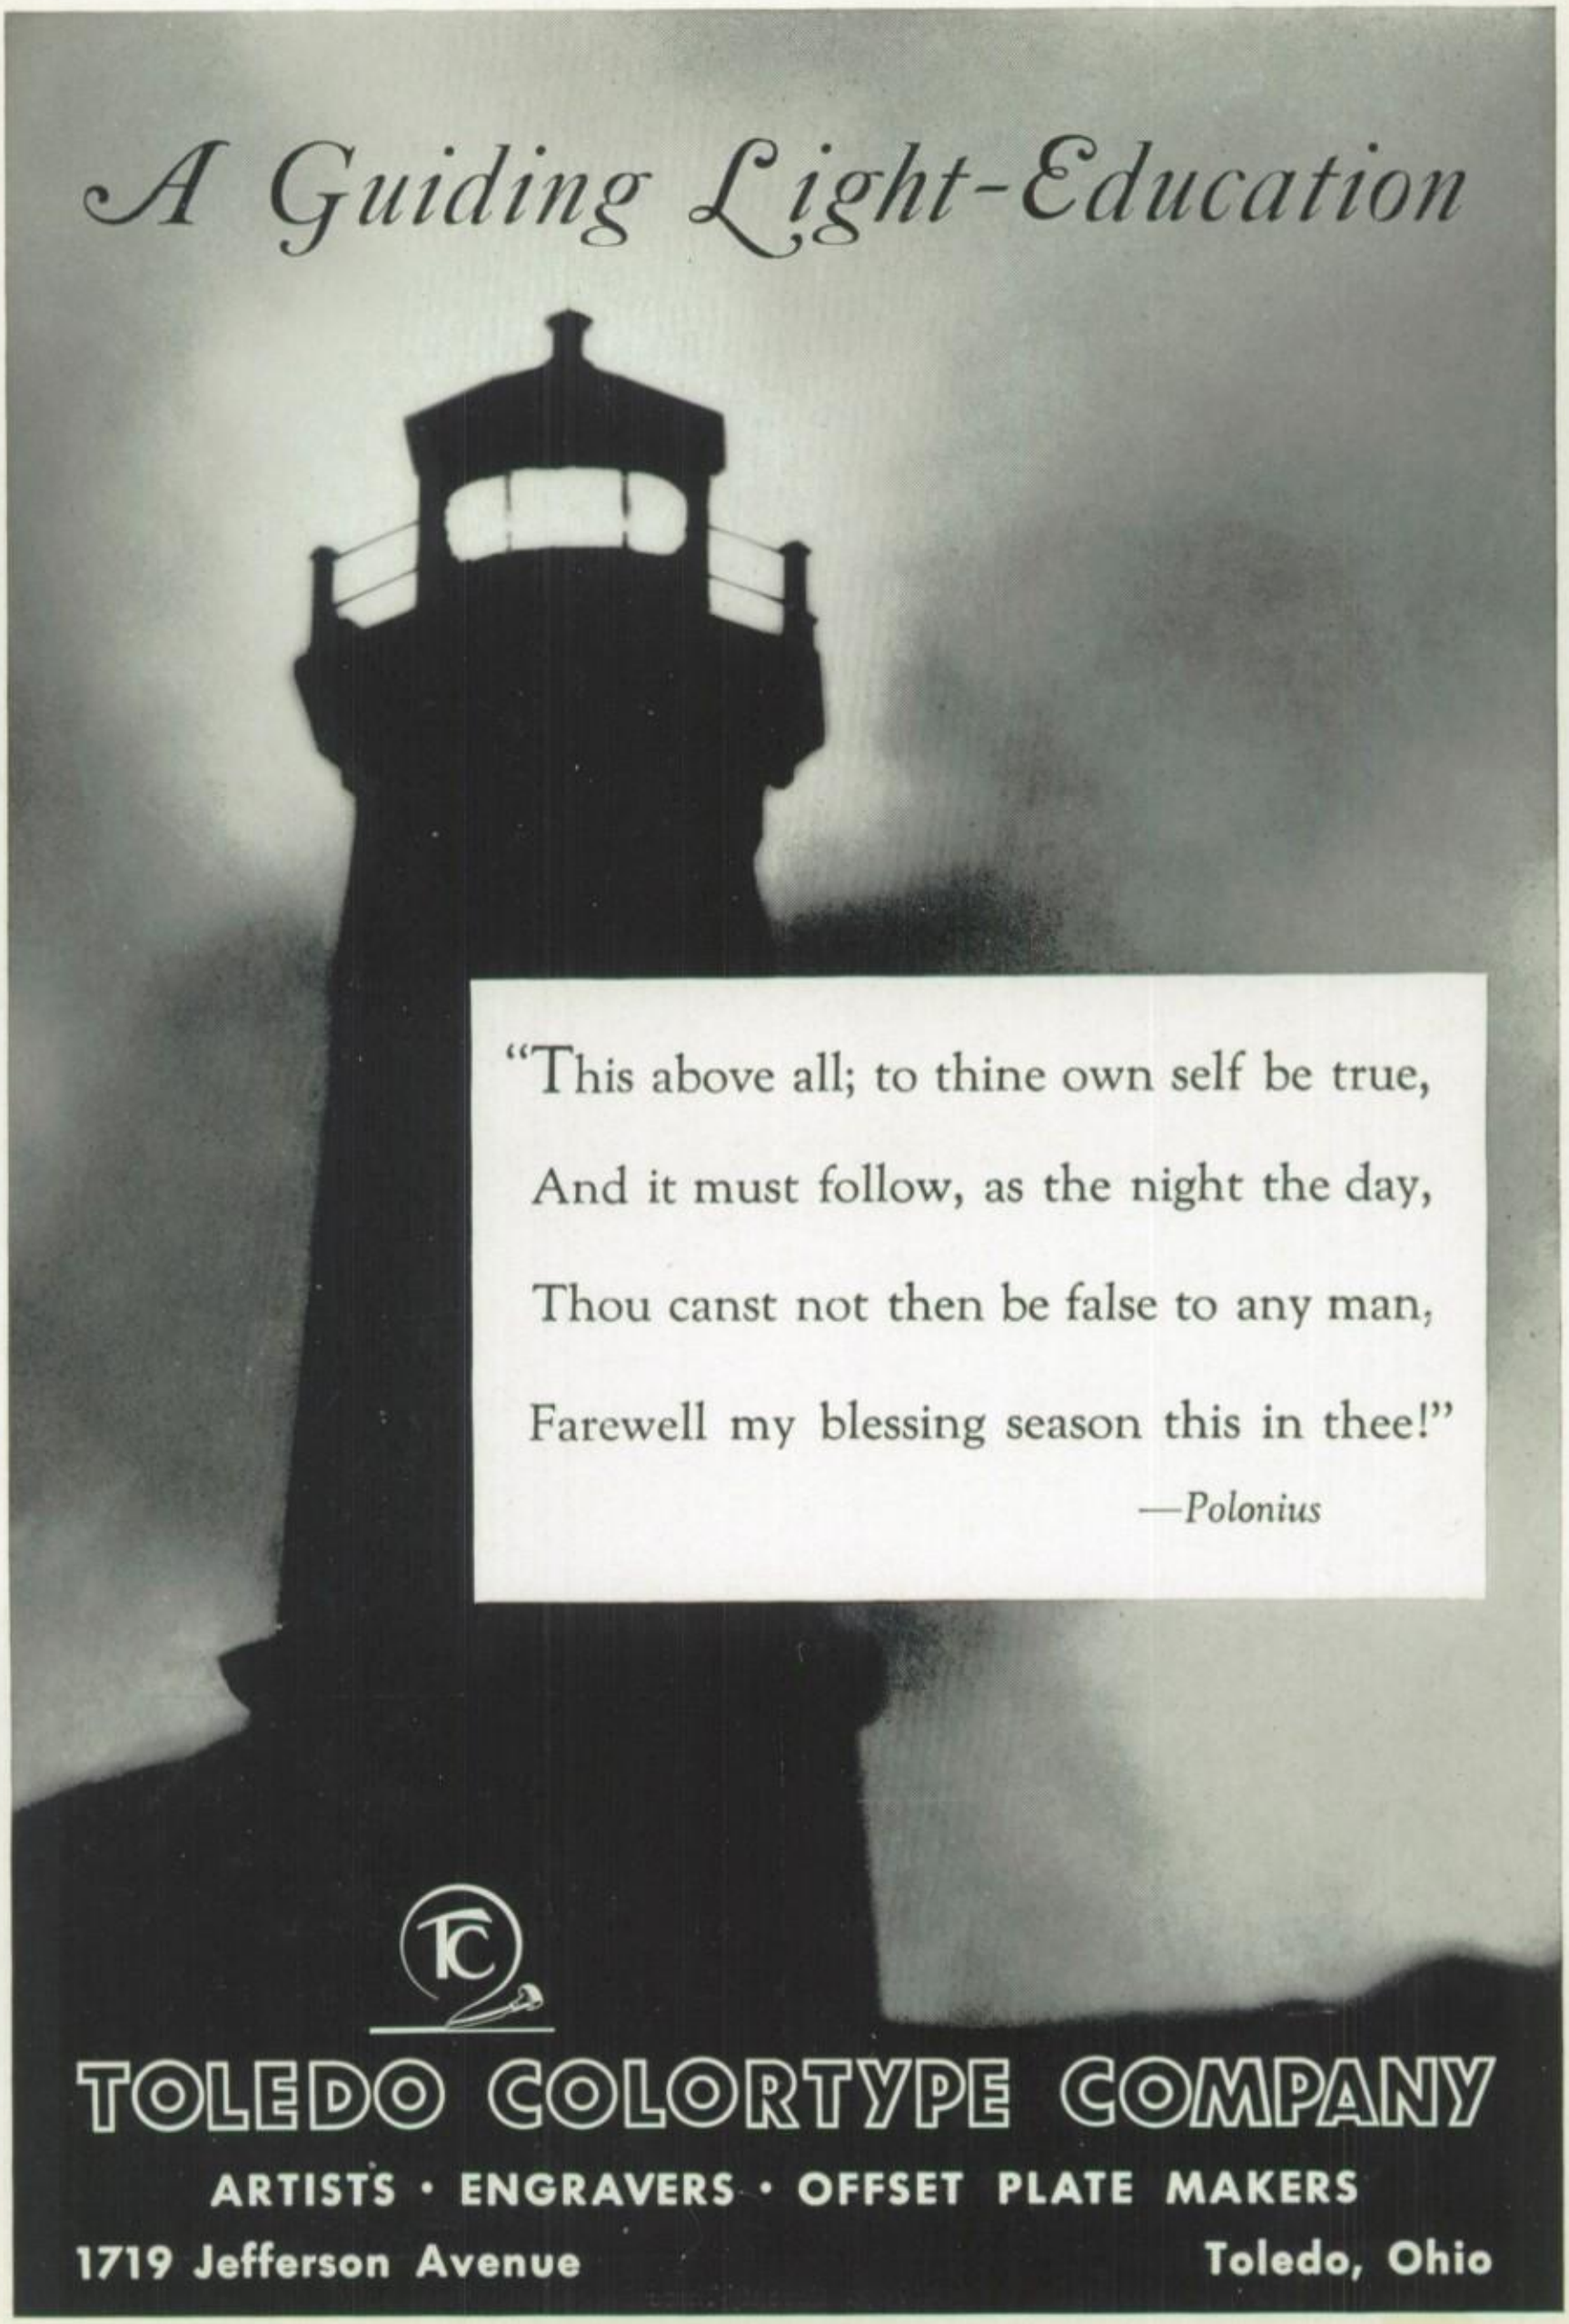
A Guiding Light-Education



"This above all; to thine own self be true,

And it must follow, as the night the day,

Thou canst not then be false to any man,

Farewell my blessing season this in thee!"
